

National Data Exchange (N-DEx) System Fundamentals Training Series

N-DEx System—Online Learning Opportunities

The FBI is pleased to announce the National Data Exchange (N-DEx) System Fundamentals Training Series. This five-part, online learning series addresses questions such as:

- ◆ What is the N-DEx System, and how can I gain access?
- ◆ What data is available within the N-DEx System and how can my agency participate in data sharing?
- ◆ How does information sharing empower the criminal justice community and what success is attributed to N-DEx System usage?
- ◆ What are some capabilities and features of the N-DEx System that can aid my investigations?

These sessions, conducted through Microsoft Teams, are designed to instruct criminal justice professionals on ways the N-DEx System can aid their investigations. Participants will receive guidance on how to access system capabilities; utilize best practices for setting system preferences; conduct effective searches on targets of investigative interest; and employ time-saving features such as subject alerts to automate investigative workloads and aid in deconfliction.

Session 1

System
Overview

Session 2

Navigation &
Preferences

Session 3

Search

Session 4

Batch Search

Session 5

Alerts &
Notifications

*Additional sessions available upon request.

These sessions are completely free of charge. Participate as much or as little as you like and ask real-time questions via virtual chat. Join in for one session, pick a few, or join all sessions in the series. Questions? Please contact ndex-outreach@fbi.gov.

Registration is required for all N-DEx System training sessions.

Click Here to Register!

SPREAD THE WORD! Please share this announcement with colleagues.